

Privacy Policy

Here at Clazy Pension Tree Limited, we take data security very seriously, and take pride in adhering to the highest standards of international privacy, regardless of their jurisdiction. We live in an increasingly digital world without being adequately familiar with the traces we leave behind in it, and our privacy policy is designed not only to help you understand the information you share online but also educate you about your rights regarding your data and empower you to take control of it. We hope you read this Privacy Policy in full, so we've hacked away at it till only the important stuff remained in a manageable container of just three pages! Even so, we understand that you might not have the time, so here are some key points extracted below to give you the gist of what you absolutely should know:

- When registering on our site and through the course of the investment process, we will receive information like your name, email address, IP address, mailing address, phone number, bank account, etc. These are maintained on our secure databases and handled with the utmost discretion
- We are a private website and nothing you share with us is searchable or viewable by others on the internet. We strictly do not sell, trade, or otherwise transfer to outside parties your personally identifiable information unless we notify you in advance
- We use various enterprise solutions like CRM tools hosted on Amazon Web Solutions. Please see the section of the privacy policy that deals with third-party applications for a full list of these
- If you have any questions about the information in this document, we are happy to help you understand this in more detail. All you need to do is contact us and our team will handle your request.

We've specially appointed a Chief Data Officer to focus on these queries about your information

That wasn't too hard, was it? Why not keep going? We strongly recommend you read through our entire Privacy Policy in detail below and welcome your feedback or questions should you wish to discuss or clarify anything you read here.

What personal information do we collect?

When ordering or registering on our site, as appropriate, you may be asked to enter your name, email address, and phone number to help you get connected with us. As we are a global firm, we may also store your IP address to ensure you are handled by the appropriate team. Upon becoming our client, we will also ask you to share your bank account details, taxation number, and identity proofs so we can proceed with the investment process.

How do we use your information?

We may use the information we collect from you when you register, make a purchase, sign up for our newsletter, respond to a survey or marketing communication, or use certain other site features in the following ways:

- To personalize a user's experience and to allow us to deliver the type of content and product offerings in which you are most interested
- To allow us to offer you personalized and outstanding service in responding to client requests.
- To quickly process your transactions, and place calls on request or to service follow-ups
- To keep in touch with you regarding our industry analysis reports, project updates, and exclusive new investment opportunities before they are open to the general public

How do we protect visitor information?

Your personal information is contained behind secured networks and is only accessible by a limited number of persons who have special access rights to such systems. These individuals are required to keep the information strictly confidential. Besides, all sensitive information, including any payment details, you supply is encrypted via Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology. All online payments are processed through a gateway provider and are not stored or processed on our servers. We utilize cutting edge security measures when you place an order, enter information, submit a form, or access your information to maintain the safety of your personal information. We subject our website and data storage systems to security scans regularly, to identify potential security holes and assess known vulnerabilities.

How do we empower you to control your data?

We are wholly transparent about the data we collect and store. Should you wish to see the personal information you have shared throughout your relationship with us, please contact our Chief Data Officer, who will be happy to give you visibility about the information we have. You may then ask to have non-critical information, i.e. information that is not needed for you to complete your transaction with us or maintain your account if you are invested in one of the projects, removed from the databases.

How do we view your data privacy within our organization?

Our teams are thoroughly trained on the high standards of data protection that we operate within the organization. Information is meticulously organized by category such that individual teams only have access to the section of information that they require to complete their tasks. Additionally, our organizational setup includes a Chief Data Officer, who oversees the management of client information that we handle, regularizes the culture of data privacy across the organization, monitors for anomalies and compliances, and also serves as the point of contact for all our stakeholders like clients or visitors who have questions about their data and the usage thereof.

Do we use 'cookies'?

Yes. Cookies are small files that a site or its service provider transfers to your computer's hard drive through your Web browser (if you allow) that enables the site's or service provider's systems to recognize your browser and capture and remember certain information. For instance, we use cookies to help us remember and process the items in your shopping cart. They are also used to help us understand your preferences based on previous or current site activity, which enables us to provide you with improved services. We also use cookies to help us compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interaction so that we can offer better site experiences and tools in the future. We use cookies to understand and save the user's preferences for future visits. They help us compile aggregate data about site traffic and site interactions to offer better site experiences and tools in the future. The use of all such data is not associated with your identity in any way. You can choose to have your computer warn you each time a cookie is being sent, or you can choose to turn off all cookies. You do this through your browser (like Internet Explorer) settings. Each browser is a little different, so look at your browser's Help menu to learn the correct way to modify your cookies. If you choose not to allow cookies, some features will be disabled and some of our services will not function properly.
